ABANDON HOPE FOR 25 ABOARD BRITISH DIVER

Authorities Declares Crew Has Undoubtedly Perished;
Heavy Sea Running.

TWENTY-FIVE WERE MARRIED

Gunner Feared Accident; One
Wife Had Lost First Husband
in Submarine Disaster.

PORTLAND, (Eng.), Jan. 11.—An object believed to be the British submarine L-24, which met disaster off
this coast yesterday in a collision with the dreadnought Resolution, has been located off the coast at thirty fathoms, according to officials.

Mrs. Wallace, wife of Gunner Wallace, who went down in the L-24 had the experience of losing her previous husband in a submarine disaster.

Twenty-five members of the crew were married. Charles Matthews, one of them, had such a premonition that something was going to happen that he was quite ill the day before the L-24 sailed. Mrs. Matthews told newspapermen today that her husband, who was still ill Wednesday, said to her: "I know exactly what will happen. The boat will come up to take her distance, then go down, and when we come up we shall be struck by something."

Mrs. Matthews continued: "At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon I thought I heard my husband calling me. I said: 'Is that you, Charlie?' But of course, he wasn't there and soon after I heard the newsboys calling out
the submarine disaster."

A heavy sea was running and it was impossible today for divers to investigate.

The divers later made several descents at great risk of their lives, but were unable to sight the submarine.
The authorities entertain little hope of any of the crew being rescued alive and believe it probable that they have already succumbed. Boats with receiving apparatus are at the scene but no signals have been received from the sunken craft. Although she is fitted with special apparatus whereby she could signal under the water.

May Establish Municipal Clinic

Emergency steps to reduce to a minimum the danger of a diphtheria epidemic will probably be taken here
within the next few days, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. C. R. Blake, city health commissioner. Dr. Blake states that a municipal clinic is to be opened at the city hall, where children may be inoculated with anti-diphtheria serum. This clinic will be open Tuesdays, Thursdays
and Saturdays from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Aged Woman Secures Release of Missionary

PEKING, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Julia Killen of Northfield, Minn., 50 years old and frail, sacrificed herself and persuaded bandits who raided the mission at Tsaoyang, Hupeh province,
last week, to take her with them
instead of her wounded American co-worker, Mrs. Bernhard Hoff, it was reported today from Hankow.

When the mission was invaded,
Mrs. Hoff and her husband, Professor Hoff, were warned by the bandits against trying to flee, advices said, but not knowing the Chinese language they attempted to bolt and were shot down. Mrs. Killen, a veteran missionary who understands the Chinese tongue, overheard plans of the bandits to take the wounded woman with them, and is quoted as having pleaded, "Take me, I will go in her place. She would die on your hands."

The Hoffs are in a hospital at Tsaoyang. Efforts to find the bandits who spirited away Mrs. Killen and who were traced to the neighboring province of Honan, thus far have been unavailing. The bandits were reported to be willing to release her provided they are permitted to enroll in the army.

Scouts To Work On Building Today

A call was issued last night by Scoutmaster Garrard for all Boy Scouts to be at the site for the new scout building here this morning, when work on the structure will be resumed. During the afternoon a party is to be held for the boys who assist in the work. Garrard said.

During the holidays work was postponed on the building, but now it is the desire of the scoutmasters to push the labor as fast as possible in order that the building may soon be in use.

Next Tuesday assistance has been promised by local contractors and it is thought that the structure will soon be completed.

The deal was made through the A.

jutant of the county council.

Seek Oil At Santa Cruz

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 11.—A crowd of 3,000 persons gathered at the city park on Delavenga Heights today, witnessed the "spudding in" of the first oil well in the Santa Cruz district.

The drilling operations were started with special ceremonies, including addresses and the taking of motion pictures. The speakers who voiced hopes of the well permanently relieving Santa Cruz of all local taxation, included Mayor John B. Maher, Sheriff H. V. Trafton, president of the company, and Postmaster Fred R.
Howe, a director of the company.

The city granted leases on the property six months ago to F. W.
Swanton, H. E. Irish, and Frank McCarrie.

Following the formal exercises,
the 3,000 auditors marched around the derrick, where the crew had spudded the new well.

DE LA HUERTA ASKS LOAN OF CAPITALISTS

Issues Mandate That Each Company in Tuxpam District Furnish Money.

ASKS $10,000 FROM EACH

Decree Declares That Production
Oil Taxes Are Payable To Insurgents.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—American oil companies with property in the Tuxpam district have no present intention of complying with the mandate of Adolfo de la Huerta, leader of the Mexican revolutionary forces, that each company loan him 20,000
pesos, or approximately $10,000 each, spokesmen for the companies said
today.

The demand for the loan was received at 6 p. m. last Monday and directed that the money be produced within 48 hours, the spokesman said.
None of the companies complied, it was stated.

Oil men said they did not believe there was any connection between the loan demand and the decree of de la Huerta that production oil taxes be paid to him. The oil taxes were due Wednesday.

Considerable apprehension is felt in oil circles over the next move of the revolutionary forces. Private advises indicate, it was stated, that de la Huerta has widened considerably the territory around Tuxpam which his forces control, and while some pumping operations are being continued in that neighborhood, it is felt that it is only a matter of time until all the stations in that section will be closed down.

Manager Dies

James Calvin Fitzsimmons, general
sales manager of the Standard Oil Company of California, died yesterday at the Dante Sanitarium. He was ill four days, having been taken from his rooms at the Olympic Club Tuesday, suffering from a heart attack.

Fitzsimmons was a pioneer of the petroleum industry on the Pacific coast. He joined the company as a salesman February 1, 1892, and held various positions until he became general sales manager in December, 1919. Only a few days before his illness he was selected as a member of the board of directors.

Company officials and Fitzsimmons was the first to introduce fuel oil on the Pacific coast. He also was active in the development of asphalt,
and recently introduced it as lining for irrigation ditches, and he was the first in 1897 to establish a market
for petroleum in Alaska.

Fitzsimmons was born at Richford, Vermont, in 1867. He was a member of various lodges. He leaves a brother, John F. Fitzsimmons of Tacoma, Washington.

Searchers Fail To Find Missing Arcata Pastor

SANTA ROSA, Jan. 11.—No
trace of the Rev. T. M. Ritter, Methodist minister of Arcata, Humboldt county, has been found, although Sheriff John M.
Boyes, his deputies and citizens have searched the hills of So-нома county and the banks of the Russian River since his disappearance Wednesday morning.

Ritter was last seen at 5:20 a.
m. in the depot at Cloverdale
just after he stepped from a Northwestern Pacific train. His suitcases were found later on the train. For some time his parishioners have believed that Ritter was suffering from mental strain.

NEW FIREHOUSE FOR EL CERRITO

Plans for the erection of a new fire hall were discussed at the meeting of the El Cerrito city trustees last night, and tentative plans and prices taken up.

At the present time El Cerrito's
fire house is located near the county line, and this was considered by some as being too far from the main section of the town, and entirely inadequate.

The new plans, as discussed last night, would call for the erection of a building at the corner of Kearney
and Protrero avenues.

Cruelty Charge In Divorce Complaint

John F. Packard of Richmond has filed suit for divorce in the Superior Court at Martinez from Emma Packard on grounds of extreme cruelty.
The husband charges that his wife told him she was tired of him, had no more love for him and refused to accompany him to places of amusement. They were married in 1916 and separated on the 5th of this month, according to the complaint
that was filed by Attorney Will S.
Roberson of Richmond.

66 FELONS MAKE ESCAPE; SECURE CONTROL OF PIT

Guards Are Threatened; Men Obtain Possession of Large Quantity of Dynamite.

ISSUE DEFI TO AUTHORITIES

No Reason Known for Outbreak; Leaders Had Been in Previous Riots.

MONTEVALLO (Ala.), Jan. 11.— Sixty-six convicts employed on the day shift at the Thomas-Waller coal mine in Aldrich, near here, are in mutiny and in control of the pit. It was reported here today. Stern measures are being used to quell the men, who are said to be strongly entrenched. Fifty-four of the alleged mutineers are negroes and two of the white convicts are said to have been among the number that participated in a mutiny at Banner mines, Jelenson County, last fall.

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.), Jan. 11.—
State convicts mutinied at the Thomas-Waller coal mines at Aldrich, in Shelby county, are using dynamite in their possession to blow up the machinery and have defied guards to enter, according to reports received here this afternoon. L. Boyd, head of the State convict board, said that the prisoners were firmly entrenched.

Sixty-six miners, according to official reports, are in the mines refusing to work. Nineteen others, a part of the day shift, left the mines.

Eighty-five miner convicts went into the mines early this morning and immediately told guards, it is said, that there would be "no coal mined today." No reason for the outbreak was given, according to state officials. Of the sixty-six men who remained inside, twelve are white and fifty-four negroes, latest information shows. Darious Thomas, president of the company, said that no warning of the mutiny was given by the convicts. Main offices of the coal company are in Birmingham. The mines are those previously operated by the Montevallo Mining Company, which went into bankruptcy.

Berkeley—Building permits issued during recent week totaled $225,000.

BORDER CLOSED TO GUNS

The judgment of an administration in charge of the affairs of a country is apt to be better than that of a merchant with guns and powder to sell when it comes to choosing which of two factions in a neighboring country is better fitted to run its government. That is why it is perfectly right for the United States to reserve to itself the sole right to send rifles and cartridges into Mexico.

Our southern neighbor is not such a world power but that any of a dozen American firms or individuals could be sheer weight of wealth, change its government to suit. If the Blank Oil company cared to throw a few millions into the fight and could buy great quantities of munitions in an open market and take them unhindered to any of the Latin-American republics, it could soon dominate that country. Indeed such intrigue has been carried out before and is being plotted continually.

We think the American people like the idea of giving Obregon a chance to retire from the presidency. It would break the monotony in Mexico to have a chief executive go out of office at the end of his term and not feel first at the end of a round of shots. If for no other reason, the novelty would attract.

About the best way America can assure this felicitous ending to the official life of Alvaro Obregon, without his coming to the sad ending of his personal and private life is for him to defeat the rebellious factions now assailing him.

He has done wonders to bring Mexico back to the ways of peace. The very fact that the rebellion has lasted a month proves that President Obregon was paying attention to other than military affairs. It is true that there has been a sort of strategy in his assignment of military units. But the trouble has been that while he devoted himself to the rehabilitation of Mexico as a nation, he couldn't keep both eyes on this and that little political militarist of military politician. He now has a hornet's nest about his ears, and Uncle Sam is lending him a great big fly swatter by making him the sole custodian of his confidence south of the great tequila trail.

What the government at Washington hopes to see is a resignation to their fate on the part of de la Huerta, Sanchez and Estrada. They should know that the government of the gringos is not now the one which watched and waited and wrote notes. The vigorous promptness of Mr. Coolidge's every act in connection with the rebellion should impress these two-by-four statesmen with the ultimate futility of monkeying with the buzz-saw.

We perceive with satisfaction in this country that none of the rebels have offered to violate the border. The towns at our ports of entry are singularly free from that hale old game of sniping nonchalantly into American territory.

AGUA PRIETA

Evidence piles up to prove that there is something in a name, after all. The town that stares at Douglas across the Mexican border is always associated in the mind with those drinks not soft but coming in bottles and barrels, and after looking upon our own water when it's black, we can reason along with the border people.

They say that the city water department has accomplished the impossible and will now set out upon new roads of conquest—making unmixable oil and water to mix is a mere after-hours chore.

Young slickers around town are no longer patronizing hair pomade. It is not necessary now.

Evolution teaches that such changes as nature works in the form, function and quality of the living tissue are slow. For instance it would take thousands of years to darken the pigment in the skin of Norwegians by transporting them to the deserts of the southwest. The racial stock of the American people here will undergo a slightly accelerated alteration.

THE LANGUAGE OF WILSON

Former President Wilson is creating a style of his own in the American language. Since leaving the White House, he has adopted a tongue in which only a few compliant minds can follow him. It is symptomatic of his present condition of score and growing disappointment at the failure of his personal program that he grows more cloudy and indefinite with each successive utterance as to the League of Nations and America's relation to it.

A short while back in calling the American people's course deeply ignoble and cowardly, he paved the way for the words he will deliver during the political campaign. He started the battle Monday with his telegram to the Philadelphia Jackson Day dinner.

A reason that Senator James A. Reed was not given a place on the foreign relation committee is that he would be too apt to consider it a committee of one.

President Coolidge should have at least made it a condition that the war secessionists and traitors quit miscegenating themselves "political prisoners."

"Yale, the Leader in College Sports"—Headline. There are now living who can remember when Yale was a leader in education.

LINE O' SMILES

Howdy Pals; It was the witching hour when all was hushed and dark. Suddenly the midnight stillness was broken by a crack from upstairs.

"G-g-good Lord, what was that, dud-dud-darling!" exclaimed the timid young Adonis.

"Merely father dropping a hint," she replied, snuggling closer.

A Berkeley Old Girl who lacks the necessary nerve to bob her hair, consoles herself thusly: "Soon I'll be one of the few women left who have long hair, and perhaps some men will say to himself, 'There's a sensible girl for me.' Splendid plan with just one flaw in it. Men don't like 'em sensible."

No wonder metropolis laughs at a village. A village thinks a barn fire is more important news than a divorce.

Another popular bedtime story now is "Say, we ought to have more cover."

Even to the exaggerated to there comes a period of deflation.

Any Lead Is Followed

"You look sweet enough to eat," He whispered soft and low, "I do," the fair one answered, "Where do you want to go?"

Character is what takes you to heaven; deputation is the thing you cash at the paying teller's window here and now.

It begins to look as though we will not commit the sin of dying rich.

He Didn't Know
"How is you car running?" asked one Richmond motorist of another.

Jackie Coogan In Masterpiece At T. and D. Today

Even without its star, "Long Live the King," now showing at the Richmond T. and D. theater, would rank high as a cinematic achievement. With Jackie Coogan, it achieves distinction as a film masterpiece.

No characterization which Jackie has created heretofore has fit him so completely as the role of Crown Prince of Lavonia. Ferdinand William Otto, in the story, and as Jackie portrays him in the picture, is a boy. Every emotion of joy, of sadness, of puzzlement, of wistful mischievousness, to which the normal eight-year-old is heir, is to be found in Jackie's portrayal. His trials are those of any adventurous lad under the discipline which falls to the lot of youth in high station; his woes are those of any lad orphaned and barred by conventions from free companionship with other boys; his joys are those of any boy temporarily released from kindly, yet acquisition of new playthings or the consummation of other childish wishes.

Mexican Revolt Cause of Slump

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—A commercial and industrial slump has resulted from the outbreak of the revolution in Mexico, and activities in all commercial and industrial lines have decreased very noticeably, according to Acting Commercial Attaché H. B. Mackenzie, Business reached in December the lowest point of the year.

Communication between Mexico City and several important producing and consuming districts has been broken. This has caused a jump in prices of foodstuffs in the Federal district and difficulty in making collections. It has also added to the difficulties which textile mills were already experiencing in getting raw materials, and several of these mills and steel mills as well, have shut down owing to this difficulty. This will serve to accentuate unemployment in the Federal district and nearby regions, and will further restrict trade.

As a result of revolutionary activities the Mexican government has declared the ports of Vera Cruz, Fronteras and Progreso on the Gulf and Manzanillo on the Pacific closed to traffic, forbidding the discharge of merchandise there. This has resulted in congestion at Tampico, notwithstanding recent improvements in the facilities of that port.

At the present time shipments to the interior of Mexico may go forward via Tampico or by rail across the border. Shipments by rail have been mainly over the Mexican National line running south from Laredo, but the Mexican Central has been mainly over the Mexican National line. It does not appear that service on the Mexican National line via Laredo has suffered seriously.

With the occupation of Vera Cruz by anti-government forces cable communication was discontinued, but the wire over the Mexican National route has remained open. Messages, however, suffer considerable delay, particularly those in code, due to the strict military censorship which has been established.

K-L Pills

For Kidney and Liver Troubles, Constipation, Indigestion and Kindred Afflictions

Liver trouble leads to serious illness. And a serious sign of liver trouble is biliousness. If you have attacks of headache, if you have a coated tongue, if you have a sickish appetite, you probably are bilious, which may lead to serious and quite often fatal results. Read this strong endorsement of Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills. Mrs. H. E. Stone, Route No. 2, Bayler, Ga., writes:

"For a number of years I have been troubled with my kidneys and liver and also my bowels. I find Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills a wonderful remedy. They certainly are the best I ever used. They can be taken without harm in my home and take great pleasure in recommending them to my friends."

You can buy Dr. Chase's K-L Pills at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, I find portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on each box, and on each wrapper, and on each bottle.

Genius Shown In Escape Made By Law Violators

One of the most interesting features in "The Last Hour" which is playing at the Macdonald, is a clever escape managed by several law violators who have just been caught by the police. Several prominent police officials who have seen "The Last Hour" in New York where it held its world premier claimed that the escape in the picture was not only very ingeniously managed but actually possible and cited several instances where criminals had secured freedom by ruses that amounted almost to sheer genius.

Milton Sills, Carmel Myers and Alec Francis compose the little group among whom the police suddenly burst in. They are handcuffed. An argument starts between the police leader and one of the captives. Suddenly the lights go out. When the lights are on again Milton Sills is no longer in the room. A search of the premises follows which takes all the police but one out of the room. How Sills suddenly reappears, how the guarding policeman is taken off his guard and how a few minutes later Sills in full view of the corps of unsuspecting policemen directs his companions from the room and into freedom forms one of the most intriguing bits of screen action.

"The Last Hour" is said to be a powerful treatment of present day life interwoven with a tender love story.

Use of Radio In Mine Rescue, Plan

BISEE, Ariz., Jan. 11.—Fourteen hundred feet beneath the earth's surface, in the Junction mine here last night a little group of electricians, radio fans and newspaper men listened for several minutes to wireless telegraph signals, believed to have been sent in United States navy code. It was believed here to be the first time in the history of radio that signals had been received under such extreme conditions.

Although efforts were made to tune in on radio phone concerts the experiments were unsuccessful other than catching several "carrier waves." However, it has been declared by experts that even these waves would not penetrate the earth to so great a depth, and with the up setting of that theory, local men of the opinion that with more elaborate preparations efforts to catch radio phone concerts in the mine here would be successful.

The experiment was conducted as the initial step in testing the practicability of using radio in mine rescue work locally.

Great Britain's Development Of Telephone Slow

Great Britain, with a population of more than 40,000,000, has a telephone system with about 1,000,000 telephones and about 500,000 miles of toll or "trunk" lines. The government owns the Post Office operates the entire system with the exception of the local exchanges in the City of Hull and on the islands of Guernsey and Jersey.

Why a progressive nation, the world's commercial and financial center, has never utilized the wonderful service of the telephone to an extent comparable with the United States or even with some European countries, is a story of arrested telephone development due in the first place to governmental restrictions and finally to government ownership. The telephone was introduced to the British by Dr. Bell soon after it was developed, and even after the inventor had persuaded some of the leaders of scientific thought that his telephone was something more than an ingenious, scientific plaything, he could not get the British capitalists to put any money into its commercial development.

This was largely because the government promptly decided that the telephone was properly part of the telegraph, and as such its operation was a function of the Post Office. It did, however, finally issue limited licenses, exacting a heavy royalty on the gross earnings of the companies.

In 1899 legislation was enacted, permitting municipalities to establish and operate telephone systems, but very few cities took advantage of the privilege, and there are now only the three cited above. In 1889 several small companies were consolidated into the National Telephone Company which made considerable progress in building up a telephone system, in spite of the handicap of government royalties and competition and a restricted license which expired with 1911.

In 1905 the British government notified the company that at the expiration of the license period the li-

Reception Given For Worthy Matron Of Acantha O.E.S.

Honoring Mrs. Ruth Newcomb, the worthy matron, Acantha Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held a reception last evening in Masonic hall. Dancing and an entertainment was preceded by a short business session of the chapter, with Worthy Matron Ruth Newcomb and Worthy Patron Isaac McGuffin presiding.

A novel feature of the evening was the conferring of the worthy matron's and worthy patron's degrees respectively on Mrs. Newcomb and Mr. McGuffin. The stunt was arranged by Mrs. Carl Alexander, associate matron.

Worthy Matron Newcomb was presented with a fruit dish by Mrs. Alexander on behalf of the chapter, while each of the Star Points presented Mrs. Newcomb with a bouquet of flowers. Worthy Patron McGuffin was presented with a handsome gift, the presentation being made by Mrs. Florence Marshall on behalf of the chapter.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing.

Don't Experiment

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Richmond Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and not time to experiment. These are frequently symptoms of kidney trouble, and a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys should be taken in time. Doan's Pills is a good remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has acted effectively in many cases in Richmond. Follow the advice of a Richmond citizen.

Mrs. A. Kukar, 1308 Bissell ave., says: "I have used Doan's Pills for attacks of kidney trouble and they have helped me wonderfully. My back was so weak and lame, I could hardly do my housework. I felt dull and run down and often had dizzy headaches. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Pills and they gave me prompt relief. Doan's regulated my kidneys and relieved the aches and pains."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Kukar had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs. Buffalo, N. Y.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Keith Narbett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Narbett, had a narrow escape from injury when the car in which he was riding overturned on Cutting boulevard.

License would not be extended, but that the government would purchase the outfit, which it afterward did on "tramway terms" which means, at an appraised value of the plant. At that time (1911) the National Company had more than 560,000 telephones.

In the twelve years that have followed, the number of telephones in Great Britain has increased about half a million, or about the average net increase in the number of telephones connected with the Bell System in a single year.

Directors To View San Leandro Work

The directors of the Eastbay Public Utilities District, meeting at the Oakland city hall last night for the last time, decided to make an auto inspection trip of the San Leandro watershed Sunday, held a meeting of the committee of the whole Monday night, and hold a general adjourned meeting Wednesday night, in order to formulate their policy concerning the proposed Upper San Leandro dam of the East Bay Water Company, which will be discussed before the State Railroad Commission on January 17.

The district directors have opened their headquarters on the third floor of a new building at 505 Seventeenth street, near Telegraph avenue, and will hold all their meetings there in the future.

The inspection and the special meetings were proposed by Director James Boyer, who said that the directors "should decide whether they will approve or oppose it, before the railroad commission hearing." Engineer A. P. Davis was asked to hasten his surveys and reports.

Mayor Oliver Ellsworth of Piedmont appeared before the directors last night and announced that Piedmont was considering entering the utilities district. The directors decided to request the Piedmont trustees to look over the terms of entry, and so approve them.

Mokelumne Data Given. Advocates of the Mokelumne water project appeared before the directors with maps and data, and asserted that this project could give the Eastbay cities 80,000,000 gallons daily, at a cost of about $16,000,000 for the plant. The Mokelumne supply is in a watershed 85 square miles, supported by contributing territory of 365 square miles, all due east of Jackson, Amador county. The supply is at present used for power by the Sierra Nevada Water and Power company and several other corporations.

The directors of the utilities district, who last week sent Mayor Rolph of San Francisco a query asking for all possible data on Hetch-Hetchy, discovered no reply from Rolph last night. They decided to do nothing about it, pending the next meeting.

Progress Made By Californians, Inc., Told By Rastall

Approximately 70,000,000 people in the United States are being reached through high-grade advertisements carefully prepared by experts and paid for by Californians, Incorporated, according to Dr. B. M. Rastall, of San Francisco, who was the speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon Friday.

C. of C. and Rotary. Dr. Rastall came to tell the Rotarians how their work fits in with the work of Chambers of Commerce throughout the country.

"I have attended Rotary club luncheons probably two-thirds of the way around the globe. I have sat at their boards from Dublin, Ireland to San Francisco and the same fine spirit of serving the community prevails wherever Rotary is found," Dr. Rastall declared.

Great Publicity Program. Thirty-three metropolitan newspapers in the United States and a large number of magazines and trade papers are used to carry California's message to the people of this country, the speaker said. He urged Richmond to be ready to give specific answers to inquiries from people who want to establish factories or homes in the bay region.

More than 100 replies daily already are coming into the San Francisco offices of Californians, Incorporated, in response to the intensive and intelligent advertising campaign according to Dr. Rastall.

Team captains of the Chamber of Commerce re-organization committee were special guests of Group 7 of the Rotary club, and a regular Chamber of Commerce Day was observed.

Speaker Given Big Hand. Doctor Rastall was given a rousing reception when he was introduced by Chairman of the day, Fred B. La Moine, and the applause was loud and sustained when he had finished.

Richmond Rotary Club is said to be about 98 per cent members of the new Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Winifred Hanlon sang two charming numbers and was accompanied by Mrs. Joy Barthelton at the piano.

Lad Johnson lead the community singing. Archie Campbell read a paper on "attendance."

The reorganization committee of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce will meet at luncheon at the Elks Club at 12:30 Monday.

1. Are you of the opinion that Prohibition under the Ontario Temperance Act makes for increased production of goods?

1,047 of 72 per cent answered Yes, 393 or 27 per cent answered No.

2. Does it increase the worker's regularity of attendance immediately after pay day?

3. Does it improve their capacity for work, and their ability to perform their duties?

1,070 or 75 per cent answered Yes, 371 or 28 per cent answered No.

4. Does it result in more comfortable homes and better supplies of food and clothing for wives and children?

1,165 or 82 per cent answered Yes, 239 or 17 per cent answered No.

5. Are drunkenness and poverty, as common now under the Ontario Temperance Act as formerly under the open bar and the liquor license Act?

1,413 or 85 per cent answered No, 241 or 14 per cent answered Yes.

The answers of the inspectors of schools and of clergymen are just as favorable. About 90 per cent of school inspectors consider that the law has improved school attendance, the home surroundings of the children, that it has improved their opportunities for obtaining an education and that a return to the license system would be undesirable.

From 91 to 95 per cent of the clergymen consider likewise that prohibition is beneficial, that it has improved the material and moral conditions of the families where formerly alcohol was consumed. They consider that it is an efficient factor in nation building.

New Sunday School Will Be Started

Plan All-Night 'Phones In Africa

The machine-switching, or automatic method of telephone operation, wherein the subscriber makes his own connections by rotating a dial without the intervention of an operator at the central exchange, is shortly to be introduced in South Africa, says the Journal of the Chamber of Commerce at Cape Town. The new type of equipment is soon to be installed in the telephone exchanges at Pietermaritzburg and Port Elizabeth.

According to present plans, machine-switching apparatus will be set up also in other localities as fast as the present manually operated equipment wears out and needs to be replaced. This will be a boon in localities which have hitherto had to get along without an all-night telephone service—a point in which the South African telephone system is notably behind that of the United States. The dial instruments will, of course, give continuous local service wherever installed.

The telephones in the Union of South Africa are owned by the government and operated by the Post Office Department. While the postal authorities have endeavored to keep the system up to date, they have been considerably handicapped according to the Cape Town Chamber of Commerce Journal, by financial considerations, and by the holding up of all development during the years immediately following the war.

The most recent statistics available show a total of only 56,081 telephones in the entire Union of South Africa on March 31, 1922. The City of Omaha, Nebraska, alone, has more telephones than that. In fact, South Africa boasts only eight telephones for every 1,000 inhabitants, while the United States had, on January 1, 1922, 127 telephones for every 1,000 people and now has an appreciably larger number. It is only fair to add, however, that the population of the Union of South Africa is made up of 5,500,000 colored people and only about 1,500,000 whites. Of the former, only an infinitesimal number are users of the telephone at the present time.

Advice on Income Tax Problems Given

Pensions paid by a corporation or individual to retired employees for services rendered are taxable. Pensions paid by the government to civil employees also are taxable. The revenue act exempts "amounts received as compensation, family allowances, and allowances under the provisions of the war risk insurance and vocational rehabilitation acts, or as pensions from the United States for service in the military or naval forces of the United States in time of war." Allowances, whether paid by the Government, a corporation, or an individual, to one who performed no services—for example, to a widow in recognition of services rendered by her husband—are not taxable, but are regarded as gratuities or gifts.

A bonus paid by a State to its resident, who served in the military or naval forces during the war with Germany is not taxable income to the recipient.

Allowances paid to a retired clergyman by the government body of a church or religious denomination in recognition of services are taxable income.

Annuities paid retired employees for the Federal Government, under the act of May 22, 1920, are subject to the tax to the extent that the aggregate exceeds the amounts withheld from the compensation of the employee. An employee who leaves the civil service before becoming eligible to retirement and receives the amount of salary withheld, together with interest, should report only the amount for the year in which received.

Benefits received from a labor union by a member while on strike are to be returned as income.

GRANTED STOCK PERMIT

Permit to issue and sell at not less than par, $103,400 of common capital stock, was granted the San Rafael Ferry and Transportation company by the state railroad commission.

Furnished by the First Presbyterian church, assisted by the Church Extension Board of the Presbytery. Florian J. Stark will be the superintendent of the school. The aim of the school, Rev. H. K. Sanborn, pastor of the church has said, is to minister to the religious needs of children and adults of all denominations.

Health Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture

The physical changes that can be brought about through the influence of the milk diet within a short time would be considered unbelievable by the average individual. For instance, if one is greatly emaciated, or "run down," and he should find a diet that would enable him to gain from three to five pounds a week, he would feel that he had made a marvelous discovery. But when I state that a gain of one pound a day is merely a fair average for those who try the milk diet, and are in need of additional food, I am not in any way overstating the facts. I have seen instances where from three to five pounds daily were gained, though these great gains were usually obtained after a prolonged fast. Naturally I am referring to those who are in actual need of increased weight; who have been poorly nourished on their previous diet. If one is up to normal weight, he will naturally make some gain on the milk diet, but it would not by any means equal what is possible when one has been under-nourished for an extended period.

Milk is undoubtedly more easily digested than any other food. It is more nearly allied to blood. It is quickly absorbed into the circulation and becomes a part of the tissues of the body with the use of considerably less energy than is required to bring about the chemical changes which are essential in preparing the ordinary foods for use in the human tissues. It is claimed by some that milk is an animal food, and accepting this claim, I have sometimes felt that, therefore, it is not the best kind of food for man, but while it is an animal food in one sense, it is no more unnatural for the adult to take the milk of the cow than it is for the baby to take the milk of its mother. It is a natural food product, for although the milk of the cow was originally designed for the calf just the same as the milk of the mother was designed for the infant, the constituent elements of the two kinds of milk are so closely allied that it is scarcely worth while discussing the unnaturalness of human beings using milk from animals other than their own kind.

Milk, indeed, is the only substance in the world which does not permit of debate upon the point that it is intended by nature as a food.

Unemployment In State Reported As Increasing

According to the employment statistics made public yesterday by Walter G. Mathewson, the State Labor Commissioner, there were more jobless men and women in December, 1923, than in November, 1923, or than in December, 1922.

The total number of jobs furnished by the eight state free employment offices in December, 1923, was 11,435. The number of jobs furnished by the same offices in December, 1922, was 13,754, or 2,319 jobs more than December, 1923. In November, 1923, the same state free public employment offices were able to furnish 15,243 jobs to unemployed workers, which was 3,808, or 33 per cent. more than in December, 1923.

"The present unemployment situation," said Mr. Mathewson, "is not entirely attributable to seasonal variations in employment. Considering the last five years, which included periods of relative prosperity and depression, there is today somewhat more unemployment than is usual during this time of the year."

Scholarship Dance Is Success

One of the most successful dances of the season was given last night by the Richmond Parent-Teachers associations at the Roosevelt Junior high school cafeteria. The affair was given for the benefit of the scholarship fund and was attended by a large crowd of dancers.

The hall was beautifully decorated by Max Sheahan from the Elks club. Ice cream and punch were served during the evening to the dancers. Carl Richard's orchestra furnished the music for the evening. George Kitchen, experienced caller of the old-time dances, assisted in managing the affair.

The affair was well patronized by Richmond dancers and well help to swell the scholarship fund to a great extent.

Lottery Suit May Be Filed

Echoes of the operation of Chinese lottery establishments at the county line will probably be heard in an expected suit in which Undersheriff William Veale is a likely defendant. With $400 in currency, seized as evidence in a raid on a lottery establishment, in his possession and two Chinese pressing their claims at frequent intervals Veale avers he is ready and anxious to have the courts decide ownership of the coin.

The two Chinese claimants are Erny Lung and Wong Kee, who for the past month have made almost weekly trips here from Oakland in an effort to persuade Veale to relinquish the coin. But, Veale, adamant to their supplications, refuses to surrender the money to either without conclusive proof of ownership, or a court order.
